WE NOMINATE

Archibald Thomas MacAllister Jr., a two-decade Princetonian and a driving-force in bringing this country face-to-face with the plight of modern language study at a time of great national need for language proficiency. In the period of the so-called "new diplomacy," when heads of state in East and West are suddenly exchanging pleasantries and are urging one another to swap weekend visits, this 54-year old Princetonian is concluding a vitally important tour of duty as Acting Director of the Foreign Language Program of the far-reaching Modern Language Association of America.

Since this past February, on part-time leave from his duties as Professor of Italian and Director of Language Instruction in Princeton University's Department of Romance Languages and Literatures, MacAllister has been concerned on a nation-wide scale with such problems as establishing standards of teacher competence, improving teaching methods and texts, and introducing foreign languages in elementary schools. To him the U. S. Office of Education has been turning for guidance in implementing the provisions of the little-understood National Defense Act of 1958 in regard to evaluating the quality of language instruction on all levels of education.

In recent years MacAllister, an effective toiler in Republican vineyards, particularly in the Borough's First and Eighth Districts, has been concentrating more and more on the methodology of language teaching. A leading authority on the works of the poet Dante, he has struggled for closer understanding and cooperation between secondary schools and colleges—seeking to strengthen the study of literary history by encouraging close and meaningful contacts with the actual texts.

To him the "living language," with stress on a nation's cultural achievements and its aspirations for the future, is infinitely more significant than a comma-by-comma study of literary classics.

A native of flood-wrecked Hazelton, Pa., MacAllister took his bachelor and advanced degrees at Yale with distinction. Prior to joining the Princeton Faculty as an assistant professor in 1940, he served as a Yale instructor, lectured at Albertus Magnus College (New Haven) and also taught at Brown University. During World War II he was in charge of "the linguistic aspects of the Italian Area Program," sponsored by the U. S. Army, and played a key role in helping train team interpreter-personnel for civil responsibilities in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations.

Over the years MacAllister has been generously active in any number of educational service organizations, ranging from consultative positions in local school systems in New Jersey to memberships on advisory committees for the Fulbright Program for overseas fellowships. A frequent speaker before modern-language groups, and a participant in both radio and television programs, he holds—in addition to other continuing responsibilities—a position as editorial consultant in Italian to The Papers of Thomas Jefferson, the 50-plus volume project being edited here on the University Campus and published by the Princeton University Press.

For helping establish a clearing-house for information and assistance in language-teaching problems throughout these United States; for injecting new vitality in a program that has lagged far behind the needs of the moment; for outstanding accomplishment in his chosen field; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

CATERPILLARS

Templeton's chenille rugs are custom-made from finest Scottish wool by a unique process. Each pile of pile is woven individually. This long line of piling (called a "caterpillar") is woven, backed and sheared separately. Then, the rug is sewn to size, not cut. This means you can select your carpeting by personal preference, not merely from stocks on hand.

Templeton's chenilles can be made to order in any color, length or width—no matter how unusual. As Templeton's exclusive local agent, we have wool chenilles from $23.55 to $32 a yard. Order now for convenient installation before early fall.

COYLE TO AID GOHEEN

Named Assistant to President. Dan D. Coyle this week was named Assistant to the President of Princeton University. President Robert F. Goheen announced. He succeeds Frank E. Taplin, who has resigned following two years in the position. Taplin will now devote his time to "the increasing pressures of business and personal interests."

Mr. Coyle joined the University's administrative staff in 1936 and for the past four years has been its Associate Director of Public Information. He also serves as editor of the Princeton Athlete, the publication of the Department of Athletics.

Participating in community activities since the end of World War II, he is a staff officer with the Army Ground Forces. Mr. Coyle is an editor and publisher of TOWN TOPICS. He has directed the March of Dimes here and organized the first meeting of the Princeton Unit of Recording for the Blind and handled public relations for Princeton Council for the past three years. He is in his second term as its president and, in Mayor Male's absence this week, is Acting Mayor of the municipality. He also serves as a liaison representative and as the Council's representative on the Planning Board.

BOY, 6, DROWNED

On Wednesday night, David Yost, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Yost, Jr., 150 Loomis Court, was still missing Wednesday night after he had been playing on the beach near Barnegat Light on the New Jersey shore.

No trace of him had been found, but his parents and the Coast Guard feared that he had drowned while swimming alone. His father and two brothers, John, 9, and Stephen, 3, were on the beach at the same time but Mr. Yost said that David had disappeared before they went into the water without their knowledge." Mr. Yost said, a day after an exhaustive search of the area had proved fruitless.

ANNIVERSARY MARKED

By MERICK. Princeton Hospital's long-term nursing unit, Merick, celebrated its second anniversary Saturday with five of the original six guests still in residence. All 33 beds are occupied for the first time in the institution's history. A total of 102 guests have been admitted since the doors opened in August, 1937.

A trained recreational director is in charge of the program of activities which include frequent birthday celebrations, parties, picnics and other entertainment. Westminster Choir College students and faculty have given almost two concerts a month since Merick was founded.

A daily arts and crafts program is provided; projects comprising painting, pottery, basket-making, games, soap boat making and ceramics. Weekly services are held in the chapel, where Bishop Matthews once worshipped. Members of the Princeton Pastors' Association conduct the services on a rotating basis.

Among the past and present guests at Merick are two former mayors (Princeton and Hopewell); a writer and translator of Thomas Mann; a retired chemist; a former portrait painter; a former headmistress of a girls' school; and several retired bankers.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED

For Assault. George McGowan Sr., 66, of 216 John Street, was given a suspended one-year sentence in Newburgh Court Monday night after conviction on a complaint of assault filed by his wife, Edith. Mr. McGowan paid $10 court costs.

In other criminal cases, Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. fined George P. Robinson 3d, 28, of 20 Bayard Lane, $25 for passing worthless checks; and Miss Darlene E. Carter, 26, Dukes Apartments, Route 27, $25 for speed-lacquered. Miss Carter was charged with stealing $7 from the purse of a patient in the office of Dr. Arnold B. Lampert, 131 Nassau Street.

Traffic fines were imposed on Miss Bettie Burbridge, 20, 219 Franklin Avenue, and on Mr. Lockhart, 30, Lytle Street, $15 for following too closely and failure to have inspection sticker, and Jack G. O'Connor, Jr., 46, 61 Overbrook Drive, $21 for speed.

DRIVER FLEW $40

100 Three Chev. June 1, Archno, 20, 229, John Street, a dishwasher, was fined $40 in a special session of Township Court on Monday on charges of careless driving, failing to yield to a driver's right-of-way and failure to have registration in possession.

Archno was charged after his 1960 sedan struck a car parked in and across the service pole in an accident on the Princeton-Kingston Road Sunday. He told police he lost control of his vehicle after negotiating a curve. Archno was not injured in the mishap.

COMMITTEE OFFERS HELP

To Planned Parenthood, Mrs. Geraldine Bresce, chairman of the board of the Planned Parenthood Committee, announced that the committee is offering help and guidance to an average of 100 women each day at its Thursday clinic sessions.

The clinics were kept open at the committee's office at 10 Nassau Street, Princeton, by popular demand, according to Mrs. Bresce, and the response has justified their continuance. The committee also offers a 24-hour telephone service, 4-8-982, and keeps its office open on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to noon when the nurse-director, Mrs. Doris Sutleyer answers questions on childbearing and family planning, and gives marriage counseling referrals.

The committee plans to launch a fund-raising campaign next month to maintain the services. Mrs. Bresce and Mrs. John Doherty are co-chairmen of the campaign. Members of the committee who will be on duty during the month include Mrs. Edward M. Arms, Mrs. Richard Lindburgh, Mrs. Alfred Hoyt, Mrs. Robert Lessing, Mrs. Dudley Woodbridge, Mrs. Oscar Susman, Mrs. Frank Neidhart, Mrs. Barbara Smith and Mrs. Norman Williams Jr.

FOUND DISHONORABLE

100 Trowbridge, Witherspoon Street, was convicted of disorderly conduct Tuesday night by Township Magistrate Louis R. Gehring. She was charged with being drunk. Mrs. Phoe Phox of the same address by throwing a pail of water on her while Mrs. Phox was sweeping the sidewalk. A 30-day jail sentence was imposed and suspended by the magistrate. Mrs. Lessing was ordered to pay $30 in fine and court costs.

GROVE KIN HOLD REUNION

75 members of the Princeton community reunion of the descendants of William Henry Grove was held Saturday in Pennington. Seventy-five members of the family and their guests attended. William Henry Grove died near Kingston over 50 years ago.

Relatives came from as far as Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, and attended after-dinner games, races and a peanut sampler, featured the reunion which was planned by a committee headed by Norman P. Silvestri.

form of a wood nymph in the guise of a child offers something more to her — more than Shawn's love or Father Hart's religion. On a few occasions it's staggering to see what they have accomplished with their bounds, particularly when one has only seen a dress rehearsal. But if the little dramatics are to be based on memory, let us hope that they did it with enthusiasm. And for all that, the only way bounds are determined is by overstepping them.

MORE PROGRAMS PLANNED

By Little Theatre. Miss Diana Terry, director of the Little Theatre, recently announced that she is planning to present more programs after a successful debut last week. Audiences contributed more than $1,000 to the group's expenses without an admission charge, she said.

Miss Terry said that the Little Theatre may attempt to form a group for its next production. She asked anyone interested in joining to call her at Walnut 1-9485.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Film Festival (August 5-6), which relates the story of comedian Loring "Red" Nichols' musical and personal life, is a notably uneven film, with brilliant high points, the first, second and third acts, and a bunch of "Kiddies." Everyone involved in this picture is competent and they'll obviously having a good time. It's a pity to use such a fine cast for the first or two descents into sentimentality not substantially mar the brightness of the picture. "A Hole in the Head" is in CinemaScope and color. Recommended.

Nichols (Ray Milland) is in New York in 1930-31, 1930s, a brash, amorous young man whose faith in his own masculinity is flawless. In quick succession, he gets a job with the office of W.C. Fields, and becomes friendly with Gurdino, who becomes his manager, marries the hand's violinist (Miles Bel Geddes) and establishes a business. Annoyed by his success, Nichols eventually rises to stardom on his own, and this gives the producer a chance to throw in several more scenes, none of which are performed admirably by Kaye and the musicians. So far so good. Unfortunately, Nichols' career begins to decline, and his schedule of one-nighters is causing tension in his family, which has, in the interim, been augmented by the birth of daughter, and the various stages of maturity by Susan Gordon and someone called Tuesday Weld. Kaye's hidden guilt feelings about his neglecting the girl he expects to marry open when she contracts polio. He gives up music completely until his daughter, several years later, helps him to realize that he is not responsible for her condition, which, as any soap-opera fan knew already, is about to improve substantially. This is all pretty atrocious, but so plausibly and genuinely performed that all but the most maudlin moments are tolerable. The excellent original songs were written by Kaye's talented wife, Sylvia Fine. The film is in VistaVision and color.

A Hole in the Head (August 9-15) is a thoroughly delightful comedy-with-music starring

Frank Sinatra, Edward G. Robinson, Eleanor Parker, Carolyn Jones, Thelma Ritter and Keenan Wynn and introducing Eddie Hodges. Of The Man With a Gun, a good deal of credit for its success lies with Frank Capra, who produced and directed, and Arnold Schuman, who supervised the fast-paced, lumpy editing. Hodges is magical in the role of a hard-up Miami hotel owner whose attempt to raise capital for his place is complicated when he meets with Miss Jones and Miss Parker and by his determination to hold onto his mother-in-law (Robinson). New York

more. There are songs by Sammy Kahn and Jimmy Van Heusen: "All My Tomorrows," "High Hopes," the latter, according to the record label, performed by "Frank Sinatra and a Bunch of Kids." Everyone involved in this picture is competent and they'll obviously having a good time. It's a pity to use such a fine cast for the first or two descents into sentimentality not substantially mar the brightness of the picture. "A Hole in the Head" is in CinemaScope and color. Recommended.

THE GARDEN

No Down Payment (August 6-10) is a well-made film about gambling, alcoholism, rape and violent death in a California suburb populated by Jeffrey Hunter, Patricia Owens, James Woodward, Shorey蒙古, Tony Romano and others. In general, it's just the thing for a happy summer evening at the movies.

The plot appears to have been lifted almost from an especially bad headline in the Daily News: Mitchell wants to be chief of police. He is turned down because he never went to college like the other kids, but turns to put up for adoption her illegitimate child. She wants a child now that she can keep. She succeeds in getting a husband, Handell, to make a lot of money. He fails as a used car salesman. He turns to drink. Mitchell, drunk, and Miss Woodward have a passing affair. He goes to the house and drops in next door, where he rapes Miss Owens. The underlying conflicts, in a word, have been established.

The film is rated as "age" by the performances of the principals, all of whom are talented and experienced actors. They never better materialize. A 1957 release, No Down Payment is in CinemaScope.

The Seven Little Foys (August 10-14), a 1957 release, features Shirley Temple and her son, Eddie Foy Jr. The story details Foy's ambition to raise to the top of the entertainment business his marriage to an Italian woman (Angela Lansbury). The plot thickens when he foul-ups at a producer's audition, and the seemingly unending round of pregnancies and births that affect the Foy household.

This thing comes to a head when the children are old enough to join the act. Miss Vitale's older sister (Angela Clarke) goes into court to prevent the Foy's from capitalizing on the talents of their offspring. The Judge is persuaded to throw out the complaint when the youngest appear in court accompanied by their father, Old Dad and their burning desire to join him behind the klieg.

The film is another case of a typical comedian who believes he can do anything, including anything. In Hope's case, at least, this is impossible. The picture is neatly divided into two groups of scenes: the serious ones, which are depressingly showy, and the funny ones. Nonetheless, it's all very bright and there are enough songs on the order of "Mary Is a Grand Old Name" to state all but the most casual viewers. The film is in VistaVision and color.

ADVERTISING VOLUME is based on results. That is, in TOWN TOPICS readership is determined by the each week in the year with all other Princeton papers combined.

THOSE DARK COTTONS

To Sew Yourself. Rich, dark cottons by the boltful come daily to the Fabric Shop on Chambers Street, and that you may find some new ones that have arrived since your visit.

What we saw were Luxford cloth paisleys—Luxford being a shade of moss green, dull gold, wine and so on. Paisley itself can be varied in more ways than you would guess. Some of the prints have been cut out and rearranged at random on the dark fabric. Others have tiny paisley figures so close together that they make an all-over pattern.

Still another has figures so small they are almost pin-heads, lined up in good and proper rows, gold against a moss green ground. Wonderful for fall dresses. These prints are $1 a yard, 36-inches wide.

In the same vein there is a collection by Robust, including a Rose print in electric blue, violet and cream, with legions, coins and rupees tastefully arranged. This one is $1.69.

A medallion print, Victorian, but not at all sentimental comes in moss green and dull rose, woven into a polished cotton.

Other dark cottons have softly checkered patterns with swirls, in solid colors. One checkered pattern gives the effect of finger painting done with all the colors mixed to a kind of black-red-brown. This one also comes in a color combination that is high style this fall.

Peter Pan cottons send along a "Primitive print" that looks much more Persian than primitive. It has narrow stripes of varying width in dark colors, each stripe filled with a different floral pattern.

Such, Anyone? The suit you buy this fall from Bellows will have a short, medium or long jacket, depending on you and the suit style. Important ancient tartans make classic suits some of them with belt loops, skirted long jackets, others very slim.

There is one, in ancient Black Stuart, outlined entirely with piping; arms on the shoulders, coming from the jacket and across a pocket. There are no cuffs and the skirt hangs straight.

Ancient Corkburn has been used for one of these fan skirts. The jacket is longer than ones we've seen recently.

A charcoal brown houndstooth, reversed brown and white, patterned with a large check. It has patch pockets big enough to put the whole suit in.

A costume suit in blue-green tweed sets a short straight jacket, double-breasted, over a straight skirt. The jacket has a wide, round collar and fringed tie belt. This is your year for cashmere and mink? Bellows can provide you with both, to mix and match. Buy a cashmere coat, in a color that looks like heavy cream.

On top, you may have a ranch mink shawl collar which comes off so you can wear it to receive or to your suit. It can be sewn permanently to the coat, if you prefer.

Other colors, besides cream, are black and cherry red and there is a myrtle-like coat with cerulean mink collar. For $139.95.

Under this cashmere coat you might have a parka-style, double-breasted three piece, done in charcoal brown jersey, its collarless jacket lined with floral print. The same print appears in the short-sleeved jersey blouse, piped with satin.

Bellows also produces a sweater for college girls that looks just like the ones fishermen wear. So they say. Anyhow, it is crew-necked and ribbed, with boat neck (rather have to be, on a fisherman's sweater), and a knit-in pattern of zig-zags and diamonds. Not telling what you'll catch in it.

Tune Me In. Take away to the beach a Japanese transistor radio.

It All Matches

Everything matches this fall. At Bellows we have sweaters and skirts are practically all dyed to match so that only the eye can tell where your blouse leaves off and your skirt begins.

There's a light-weight flannel straight belted skirt, for example, yarn dyed in Jamaica brown, dark charcoal brown, navy, lovely cornflower blue, pepper green, American grey and red. With this skirt you wear slipover or cardigan in exactly the same shade, exactly the same size.

There's also a brightly checked skirt in blue and green, and you can wear either a blue or green sweater with it, precise match. To make the picture even more monogrammed, there's a subtle plaid skirt with exactly that blue and green. If you can believe it, so your sweaters can do, too.

One of the handsomest pairs is a camel's hair skirt with camel's hair pullover, ribbed, and cut with collar and four-button closing. This is real camel's hair, too; not just a color.

from the Music Center on Palmer Square. It has six transistors, battery, ear-phones and leather case for $32.95.

Your summer listening can be words, music or that well-known opera, "The Barber of Seville." Center suggests that you try one of RCA's three complete operas which the company is graciously selling for $11.95, mailing, that's $12.95. You can take a look at them. What you hear is "The Marriage of Figaro," "The Barber of Seville" and "La Forza del Destino," all recorded by Metropolitan Opera artists.

On the wacky side, you'll find Stanley Holloway being very Lancashire—remember Young Albert and "er" had bucked underneath the floorboards?" Listen to all English comics here, just that in "At the Drop of a Hat," and Mort Sahl being mordant on 2 LP's and even Henry Morgan. Turn up the volume.

MUSIC
In Princeton

THE KRAEUTERS PLAY

Telmire and Gavel. Two former members of children, Phyllis and Karl Kraeuter, appeared at a concert Monday night in McCosh Hall. Also on the program was the pianist, Leonard Elman. The concert was presented by the University Players as part of the 1959 summer festival.

Members of a family who for more than 2 years and 11 consecutive generations have been musicians, the sister and brother made their debut respectively at 7 and 17 years of age. They have since appeared in 40 states and in countries abroad and won many prizes.

Probably Monday night's concert did not give a fair impression of the Kraeuters. Miss Kraeuter appeared to have trouble with her cello in the humid weather; whatever the reason, her sound was not good, the intonation was erratic, and lacking in fullness during most of the program. Mr. Kraeuter fared better and often played with beauty and purity and rhythmic precision. His piano playing was always impeccable. Mr. Elman performed ably and pleasantly at the piano.

The program contained a concerto for violin and piano in E major by Tchaikovsky, a Ravel sonata for violin and cello, and a trio D-minor by Arensky. The three selections gave the music critic opportunity for favorable comment, but the readings were not unified in concept or execution. One minor disturbing note was the lack of smooth music-stand adjusting and general composure between the parts of each concerto which contributed to dispelling the mood of the work.

The encore consisted of two pieces arranged by Mr. Kraeuter.

The first was the serenade from Mozart's "Don Giovanni," in which the piano served as the voice and the violin as the lute. The second was a spiritual, "De Blin' Men Sat by de Road and Cried."

FOLKINGER TO APPEAR
Karen Duke Will Perform. Balladeer Karen Duke will present an evening of "Songs With Guitar" in the sixth annual Princeton Concert Series on March 10 at 8:30 on Monday. Miss Duke, whose professional experiences range from folk singing to opera, will sing Elizabethan, Old Country and Blue, French chansons, American ballads and other folk songs.

Miss Duke is a professional model and actress. She has appeared in summer stock and in the road companies of "Candide" and "Silk Stockings." She has had her own radio program in Northampton, Mass., and toured the Far East for the USA.

OUTDOOR CONCERT LISTED
For Friday Night. The Princeton Concert Series will present a concert at 7:30 on Friday on the lawn in front of Nassau Hall. In case of rain, the program will be postponed to Monday night.

The band is conducted by Bruce McKinney. The program will include Rossini's "La Gazza Ladra," Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition," Gershwin's "Jazz, Joy of Man's Desires" and Selections from Richard Rodgers' "Carousel" and Souza's "King Cotton March." The band's solo citharist, Alan Glinberg, will conduct the Bach work.

SALARY INCREASE OPPOSED

By Mayor Gurisie, Miss Grace A. Gurisie, mayor of Rocky Hill, and Democratic candidate for Somerset County freeholder, has announced her opposition to any increase in salary for county freeholders. The Democratic executive committee has backed her stand.

The proposed raise would bring the part-time freeholders' salaries from $6000 to $9000 a year. Mayor Gurisie pointed out that the freeholders are furnished with an expense account and an automobile in addition to their salaries.

ARCHERY CONTEST HELD

Under Police Sponsorship, Joe Squitieri and Bob Anderson won the field archery shoot sponsored by the Police Youth Program at the Buckland Valley Archers

Course at Washington Crossing.

Squitieri won in the 13-15 age group, and Anderson the 10-12.

Runners-up were Tom Fasanel and Doug Watson in the younger group and George Kalschmid and James Moran in the 13-15 bracket.

TWO HITS, ONE MISS

PLAYERS PRESENT ONE-ACTERS. The present Players' current production of three one-act plays is a curiously mixed offering which improves considerably as the evening progresses. Some, but not all, of the early problems may be attributed to the fact that Robert Coote, who has made his part in the first two plays, became ill on Monday and had to be replaced.

The curtain-riser, "The Land of Ned," by Murray Lipson, seems hypocritical in its successors to have been inadequately rehearsed. There is a great deal of hesitancy and outright stumbling over the lines, which should be cleared up later in the week but which nonetheless dulled the impact of the first-night production.

This is the premier performance of the play which depicts a boy's coming-of-age in the facts of life in the sordid backyard of a Southern carnival. Mr. Lipson, who graduated from Princeton in 1955 and now toils at Radio City Music Hall, has chosen a somewhat self-consciously obscure slice-of-life form for his work, making it difficult to understand what is going on until the play is half over.

Since the locale is immaterial to the play's substance, it is unfortunate that director Dale Bill has permitted his performers to act at the Society Room, where Bell himself, the worst offender in this regard, his verbal blending of New England and the Old South having led him to the mutterings of a Method actor with a speech impediment. Jim Prather, as the manhandled stripper, and Daniel Durning, as the flamboyant carnival barker, both turn their toros into dialect, while young Michael Dugan and James Harder, who speak relatively plain English, are better.

Anti-Play's the Thing. After this rather somber beginning the Players turn to wacky and highly effective satire in Eugene Ionesco's "The Bald Soprano," described by its author as "an anti-play." Treading with deadpan irony on dramatic clichés ranging from coincidence to last-minute moralizing, the play's combination of nonsensicality sparked by heightened and understanding performances from all six participants.

Director Philip Morris, who took Mr. Coote's part in the play, deserves credit on both fronts, but it is the opening dialogue between Ettie Parker and John Wyne-Evans, particularly their discussion of a woman made up exclusively of persons named Nancy Watson, that establishes the play's rewarding atmosphere. Marj Louis, as the tall, thin, gaunt-looking lady indeed is both eye-hilling and tremendously amusing as the scantly-clad housemaid with a yen for poetry and the local fire chief (Mr. Harder). Miss Prather is plumb funny as Mr. Minor's wife.

But Not Least. This high level is sustained and perhaps exceeded by the program's final offering, "A Month in Provence," a wittily farce by Anton Chekhov concerning a Parisian less who can't help starting arguments with the apoplectic suitor she happens upon. During the play, during games what is probably the evening's best single performance in the role of the suitor, a virtuoso display of comic ability, and Miss Wiles is superb as the argumentative maiden.

Mr. Harder portrays her father with the proper combination of robust good spirits and thunderous good nature. Director David Sawyer brings the best in this expansive and entertaining comedy.

The success of the program is heightened by the technical production, which is excellent for all three plays. The lighting, motion should go to Paul Gluckler, whose effective settings capture the evening's varying moods to perfection. The three plays will be presented at 8:30 each night through Saturday at Murray Theatre.

SILVER DOLLARS EXCHANGED for coins dated 1917

Founded in 1917, Princeton Savings is now in its 42nd year of service to the community.

In celebration — during opening day only — the first 250 persons to present a 1917 U.S. coin of any denomination, may exchange it for one of our shiny new silver dollars. (Limit one exchange per person.)

You'll enjoy your visit to Princeton's newest thrift headquarters, where nothing has been spared to make saving pleasant as well as profitable.

The modern, color-keyed interior — always delightfully climate-controlled — is both spacious and restful.

Remember, you can open an account here with $1 or more, add to it as much as you please as often as you please. Savings received by the 15th of any month earn from the 1st. Current rate 3 1/4%.

BUSINESS In Princeton

MERCER-PRINCETON MOVES
Firm Located at 21 Chambers, The Mercer-Princeton Realty Company moved this week from its 90 Nassau Street address to 21 Chambers Street, the former location of Princeton Savings and Loan Association. At its new address, the company will offer a complete real estate and insurance service to the Princeton area of Mercer, Henderson, and William F. Talmadge, respectively.

Founded as Princessville Realty Company in 1937, the firm maintained its office at 108 Alexander Street until March of this year when it moved to 90 Nassau and changed its name to Mercer-Princeton.

In charge of the company's new insurance arm, Mr. Talmadge has been head of the New York group office of Security Mutual Life Insurance Company and in the insurance field since the past 18 years. A native of Binghamton, N.Y., and a former Bronxville resident, he and his wife moved here last week.

Mr. Henderson has been associated with the company since its beginning, and became broker in May 1938. He is responsible for the sale of the King Apartments, Lawrence Township to the Princessville Service Park group last year. Last week, he negotiated the sale of the King Apartments, Inc., a national real estate clearing house, of "Harmony Hollow," an 80-acre farm in Harrington, to Richard C. Jacobs, a New York attorney.

From Princeton to Princeton in 1934, Mr. Henderson was in Caracas, Venezuela, with the U.S. Life Insurance Company, having served as vice-president and treasurer. Bill Powell, New York, an associate of the field specialist, was manager of the Radio City office of Travellers Insurance Company, and was chairman of the New York City Health Advisory Committee of the New York State Insurance Department for five years. He was a salesman with Skilman and Stillman for a year before joining Princessville.

PRINCETON SAVINGS MOVES
Open House This Saturday, Princeton Savings and Loan Association moved this week to its new location at 19 Chambers Street, next door to the old office at 21 Chambers Street. Mercer County's first insured savings and loan association, Princeton Savings is now in its 42nd year of operation.

"The move to larger quarters is, of course, dictated by the rapid growth of our association," said president Franklin Butin. "We are now serving increasing numbers of savers and homeowners. We hope they will enjoy the facilities we have planned with their comfort and convenience in mind."

The association will celebrate the occasion with an "open house" Saturday from 10 to 4. The first 250 visitors to present a copy of a deposit account dated 1937 can exchange it for a silver dollar. Souvenirs will be distributed to all who attend the opening day celebration.

VOLLRATH NAMED DIRECTOR
OF Nassau Fund. Donald C. Vollrath, Springdale Road, has been elected a director of the Nassau Fund. He will succeed Dr. James H. Wilson whose resignation became necessary when he assumed his new duties as Assistant Secretary of the Navy in charge of research.

Mr. Vollrath, a graduate of Penn Charter School and Princeton University, has had broad experience in the financial community, including investment advisory duties which have prepared him to serve on the board of Princeton until "open-end" mutual investment funds are formed.

He is currently engaged in securities analysis and advisory work with the investment firm of W. C. Strutin & Co., New York, with whom he has been associated for the past 14 years. Mr. Vollrath has previously been in trust work when he was with the Trust Department of the First-Pennsylvania Trust Company and the Philadelphia National Bank where he was also engaged in security analysis and advisory work.

TWO MEN NAMED OFFICERS

Mr. Baldwin-Ehret, Inc., 18-year-old J. Hume Rosette, David, and William A. Schryver, 15 Hazel Avenue, have been appointed vice-president for research and development and secretary-treasurer of the division of Baldwin-Ehret-Hill, Inc., of Trenton.

The appointments are the result of a merger between Baldwin-Hill Company, Trenton, and Ehret Magnesia Manufacturing Company, Valley Forge, Pa.

same positions with the Baldwin-Hill firm.

ASCOP RECEIVES CONTRACT

For Data Control Systems, Applied Science Corporation of Princeton has received a contract of $754,000 for supplying digital data transmission systems for the Egin Gulf Test Range, Eglin Air Force Base, Fla. The contract brings to nearly $2,000,000 the volume of orders that ASCOP has received for supplying telemetry and data handling equipment for the missile program.

The 45-mile Egin Gulf Test Range is a huge electronic "scoreboard" that will allow up to three missiles to be flown against three remote-controlled drones. All missiles in flight will have flight performance data monitored simultaneously.

ASCP data-transmission systems include flight performance data and control data for several sites where it is presented on instrument panels. The corporation is also supplying telemetry equipment to all range sites for receiving, reducing and recording telemetered flight-performance data.

SPORTS In Princeton

This is the last in a series of four articles on Princeton football prospects for 1959.

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK — IV
Opponents Will Be Tough. If Princeton's 1958 football team remains injury-free, it will almost certainly be measurably better than it was a year ago. Despite that, it needn't say much that the Tigers may have their hands full just duplicating last year's second-place Ivy finish and overall 6-3 mark.

The "Tigers" moniker stems from the fact that all five of the teams with which Princeton had its greatest difficulty last fall figure to be even tougher this year. As it were a year ago, two or three of them will be better. Conversely, the four that were heaten by margins ranging from 10 to 36 points are unlikely to improve enough to play the Tigers on even terms this season.

In 1958, Rutgers won the moratorium, 28-0. Columbia and the Quakers, 21-13. Princeton beat the game that met the Ivy title, 21-12. There were two close-call Princeton victories, 20-17 over Penn, and 16-14 over Harvard. The other four triumphs were recorded by good-sized margins over Columbia, Colgate, Brown and Yale.

This year, Princeton's opponents again seem as the two best teams Princeton will face. The Scarlet will come into Palmer Stadium on September 20 to confront the Cornell Big Red, who labored by a big, veteran line and able to produce enough good backs to give the Tigers all they can handle.

Hopes are that Princeton will have a high enough rating in the Ivy League by the first game of the season so as to be in a position to challenge Dartmouth for the title. The Green lights, to defend its championship down to the wire, despite the need to replace the entire backfield. Veterans Bill Gandy at quarterback and Jack Crantford, All-Ivy left halfback, will give the Indians the basis of an attack. Every opponent will have trouble stopping.

If Princeton and Dartmouth are considered good enough to be almost certain first-division teams, others in the league are brothers with them. Three (Pennsylvania, Harvard and Cornell) are good bets, with the oft-humbled Quakers possibly the strongest. Unusual backfield speed is provided by halfbacks Dave Clegg and Fred Doelling, while Penn will field a big line backed by considerable experience. Red and Blue has the bigger, as senior end George Darmstrom and Princeton on successive early October Saturdays and if it ever managed to get by both of them, would be a shoo-in for the title.

Cornell, which had a much better season than expected last year and missed tying Dartmouth for the title only because it was an upset victim of the bigger, as well as a good material back to remain a major threat. Odds are the Ithacans will beat out Harvard for first division, but the Crimson probably has the deepest, which quarterback Charlie Ravenel sparks, and will be among the front runners if any of the favored four slip.

Yale, Brown and Columbia all hope to make up ground this fall. Columbia is the best chance after their dismal 0-7 Ivy performance last fall. The Blue will get better than average sophomore material, with Bill McMillan, who raised a ruckus with Princeton's freshman last fall, the big hope to fill the vital quarterback slot.

If Yale moves upward as expected, Brown is the pick over Columbia to escape the cellar. The Bears' coach, John McLaughlin, who left Amherst to take the job at Providence. He has only four regulars back from the 1958 outfit which was 4-3 in the Ivy League, but his material is better than at Columbia.

The Lions might surprise some, as they did in toppling Yale last year, but their two coaches, Dick and Jim, are generally thin squad leave little cause for optimism. Princeton's other 1959 opponent, Colgate, is probably a year away from causing real trouble but the New York team still had one of the best freshman teams in the east, Alva Kelley, whom McLaughlin replaced at BACKFIELD BET: Bill McMillan, a starting wingback on the unbeaten Princeton freshman team last fall, 1958, has returned to college after completing military service.

Brown, created the vacancy by moving to the Colgate campus.

Facing two of the toughest teams on its 1959 schedule in the first three weeks of the season, Princeton will have major assignments awaiting all of the right foot. Rutgers will again be a rugged opening opponent, hungry for one of the rare victories the Scarlet manages to score in Princeton.

Princeton, which would also rather beat Princeton than any other opponent it faces, has high hopes of gaining the victory. It narrowly missed a year ago, when the team's sole win came from behind to win, despite the loss of Dan Sachs and Jackie Sullivan en route. These two early games will determine the direction of Princeton's degree of success in 1959, with defeat of Penn probably meaning that the Tigers will not quite have what it takes to

FIELDER'S CHOICE: Players and managers in the Princeton Community Softball League have given up. To end their predicament on the outcome of the tight, three-way race between Milwaukee, San Francisco and Los Angeles for the National League pennant, Tom Teague, coach of Pete and Mike's thinks Los Angeles will take it away while the Spudmen's Frank Pincel picks Milwaukee. For other reactions, see this page. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Who do you think will come out on top in the close race between the Dodgers, the Giants and the Braves for the National League pennant?

Asked: Of players and managers in the Princeton Community Softball League.

George Boccanfuso, 156 Linden Lane, Sannino's: Milwaukee. I think they needed a second baseman and they've got one now in Bohy Avila.

Warren Huff, 25 Race Street, Teague and Burton's: San Francisco all the way. The pitching is holding up and the team will start hitting soon. The way it looks now, I don't think Los Angeles will stay in first place long.

Tom Prosciutto, 19 Erdman Avenue, Petz and Mike's: The team is hitting and pitching are starting to get together and when Gil Hodges gets back they'll have the extra punch of a long hall hitter.

Marvin Troftman, 198 Birch Avenue, Teague and Burton's: I'll say San Francisco. They seem to have a better chance. They have better balance than any of the other contenders right now and their pitching staff is holding up well.

Gerard Racioppi, 61 North Lane Street, manager, Sportsman: I'm thinking Milwaukee. They're doing a great job. They have great hitters. They're lagging now but they'll come through at the end.

Mike Boccanfuso, 62 Leigh Avenue, Sannino's: Milwaukee. They have a balanced team with good hitting and pitching.

Duke James, New Brunswick, Teague and Burton's: The Giants, I guess, because they have Willie Mays. Don't worry; he's on his way. He'll start hitting soon.

Win, Place or Show?

In one of the best three-way races the National League has staged in years, the San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers and Milwaukee Brewers are heading into the stretch with the 1958 pennant. Who'll finish first?

Have the Brewers the balance to become the league's first three-time champion in more than a year? Can the Dodgers, a second division team a year ago, stage a comeback good enough to carry them all the way to first place? Will the Giants continue to give California its first World Series?

Because ball players themselves are such firm followers of the major league races, Times' Torches, inquiring reporters and members of the Men's Softball League are asked their choices in the sizzling race, which has seen all three top clubs in the lead at one time or another. Each of the three teams has its buckers—see answers at left.

Frank Pincel, 110 Mountain Avenue, Sportsman: I'll say Milwaukee. I think they've got the best all-around hitting and pitching team in the National League. Right now they're in a slump but they'll come back by the end of the season.

Tony Freda, Little Rocky Hill, Petz and Mike's: San Francisco. They have a lot of power and pitching strength, more power than the Dodgers. Milwaukee doesn't have any pitching this year.

Pete Sannino, proprietor, Ivy Inn, 251 Nassau Street; sponsor and manager, Sannino's: I think the Giants will win it, on one condition — if Willie Mays gets back in shape. I don't think they can win without him.

Bob King, 68 Birch Avenue, Teague and Burton's: Los Angeles. They're strong this year; they're going to be better this year than they were a couple of years ago. I think they'll hold on to first place.

Jack Petrone, 146 Valley Road, Sannino's: Milwaukee, because they hire more here than in any other major league team. It keeps them in shape.

Obituaries

William J. Clarke, 90, Princeton, died July 29 in Princeton Hospital of complications arising from a broken hip. He coached baseball at Princeton University during 34 seasons over a 47-year span, and was the last survivor of the Princeton baseball team that won the 1890 title.

Mr. Clarke coached Princeton teams in three separate periods, from 1897-1901, 1909-27 and 1936-41. While he never led his team to a title, his teams had compiled a cumulative record of 499 victories, 300 defeats and 14 ties, for a 60 percent winning record. Only six of the 34 teams failed to show a winning record.

Born in New York City, October 18, 1868, Mr. Clarke moved to Indiana territory when he attended the University of Indiana. Following his graduation from the Brothers College in Santa Fe, N.M., where he studied civil engineering, he entered baseball in 1889, playing in the minor leagues for four years.

He joined the Baltimore Orioles in 1893, and remained eight years in 12-team leagues and shared the catching duties with Wilbert Robinson while the team won pennants in the National League. On August 10, 1901, Mr. Clarke, who had been a catcher, Sox, and his teammates are now in the baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y., including Princeton Dean Bert C. H. Jones, John McGuire, Willie Keeler, and manager McGinnity, and manager Hamilton.

As a Princeton coach, he is credited with winning more than 500 games, now a lawyer and linguist, who starred with the Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators. He also coached the late Charles W. Calfee, whose coaching trials with the New York Yankees was curtailed by a sore arm, before he became famous as a football coach at Princeton.

In addition to his achievement, Mr. Clarke had lived with his wife, the former Isabelle Thomas, at 76 Nassau Street, where they operated a antique shop until his death. On his 90th birthday last October, the Baseball Advisory Committee honored him with a dinner at Nassau Inn.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Clarke was survived by a granddaughter, Mrs. Jean Clarke Jones, of Manhattan Beach, Calif. The funeral was held in Princeton under the direction of the Klauber Funeral Home. Interment was in Druid Ridge Cemetery, Baltimore, Md.

DOUBLES TOURNEY ENDS

At Princeton Fair Wins, Mrs. Peggy Callaway and Mrs. Jane Wimberding of Princeton won the women's doubles crown in the community tennis tournament last week by defeating Mrs. Judy Wimberg and Mrs. Edith Ruhlin of Trenton, 6-1, 6-2. The women's doubles was part of eight tournaments conducted this summer by the Playgrounds Committee and the YMCA.

The tourneys were directed by Richard G. Elve. In the men's singles, which the title won by Mrs. Callaway and Mrs. Wimberding. In the semi-final round, this pair defeated Mrs. Dorothy Katz and Mrs. Dorothy Sander of Princeton. Mrs. Wimberg and Mrs. Ruhlin set back Mrs. Christ Tibbles and Mrs. Jermaine Mueller, 6-3, 6-1.

POST 76 NO-HIT VICTIM

Others, 13-0. Three-hitter, Stan Zarchi, handuffed Princeton Post 76 without a hit last Wednesday to ease Hamilton Post 31 to a 2-0 victory on the winners' diamond. Zarchi hit Eric Sampson in the first inning and walked Ed King in the fifth, but these were the only Princeton batters to reach base.

The Hamilton partition fanned four in the first two frames. Oster bettered Zarchi for the first three frames, pitching perfect ball until Chuck Giambelucca walked to lead off the fourth. Giambelucca stayed on base and scored on an error by Sandvill for the unearned run that provided Zarchi with all the margin he needed.

Post 31 added an insurance tally in the sixth when Ed McGrath singled, took second on Olson's bulk and scored when Forrest Parker singled in center. Olson was errors and a three-hitter in a losing cause.

A scheduled game at University Field was postponed last Saturday due to grounds. Post 31 was slated for return this weekend; last-place Hightstown Tuesday, league-leading Ewing Wednesday, at University Field and North Trenton away on Saturday.

ALL TEAMS TIED

In Junior League, what may have been the most closely contested baseball in recent memory tightened last week as all four teams in the Junior Baseball League wound up in a first-place tie with .500 percentages. The Princeton All Stars, Asbury Park, won its only games while Nassau Oil and Matthews Construction Company each split two contests and all three pulled even with Bowers Construction Company and the only losing team was the Hightstown team, which lost 8-7, to earn its place at 2-2 and extend the Oilers' losing streak to three games. Matthews whipped Bowers, 9-4, squaring the Bowers slate at 3-3. Then Nassau Oil beat the All Stars with a 6-5 victory over Matthews, placing both teams even with a 3-3 and a 2-2 log, respectively.

Stephen Fugitiv. The former Princeton resident died July 31 in San Jose, Calif. He had once operated a grocery store at 114 Witherspoon Street. His survivors include four sons, Mrs. William Hinckle, Mrs. Catherine Balsano, Mrs. Joseph Vitella and Mrs. George Till, all of Trenton; and three grandchildren. The funeral and interment took place in San Jose.

Mrs. Gertrude Y. Rockhill. 84, of 27th Main Street, Lawrenceville, died Aug. 3 at Princeton Hospital. The wife of Lloyd H. Rockhill, she was a member of the Lawrenceville Garden Club and the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, Willard T. Rockhill of Conshohocken, Penna.; a sister, Mrs. Margaret C. Moore of Lawrenceville; two granddaughters and eight great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Mr. Alvin Kimble, pastor of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, officiated at the service, held at the Mather Funeral Home. Interment was in Lawrenceville Cemetery.

Sports In Princeton

up a bit as Matthews takes on Bowers Thursday and FEA meets Nassau Oil Friday. The league schedule ends August 18, but rain has forced several postponements.

DINER CLINCHES TITLE

In Girls Softball League, a two-run rally in the fifth inning won a 1-1 tie and carried Clarksville Diner to a 3-1 victory over Town Topics and netted double league championship. Clarksville hosts four-game lead contests to be played.

Sands Extrance hurled a five-hitter for Clarksville. Kay Houston and Lois Cooper paced the attack. Town Topics overcame a 1-0 deficit in the fourth inning to beat the pitcher Ginny Mershon Wednesday in the fifth frame as Clarksville earned its win.

In the other game, 16 place ETS outslugged Thorneys, 13-12, in a see-saw affair that rounded out the schedule for the winners. Thorneys, batters in the 3-0, 6-3, 9-12, 12-9 before falling to ETS, held the lead for the first time when ETS rallied for four runs in the last of the sixth inning.

FAC AT HOME THURSDAY

With Face Montgomery, the regular season in the Princeton League will come to an end on University Field this Thursday at 6:15 p.m. when league-leading Princeton, 16-1, plays for the Princeton Athletic Club. Princeton will start as soon as rain ends and tie games have been made up.

The Princeton entry dropped two more games last week, losing a tough 1-0 decision to Montgomery on an unearned run before winning a 7-2 defeat at South Brunswick. Dick Burtt, starting and losing hurler, hit a three-run homer over the left field fence for FAC but the biginning inns gave the visitors seven runs at the outset proved too big a deficit.

ENGINE CO. 1 WINS TITLE

Murray Blower Co. Inc. Engine Co. No. 1 won the first-place championship of the Police and Firemen's Youth Baseball League Tuesday at Richie Murray tossed a one-hitter and outlasted the Italian-American Spartan's Club, 7-0, in a 10-inning game.

The teams finished in a tie for first place last week, losing a 10-0 to No. 1 down the stretch. The 6-2, 10th week, also behind Murray, Engine Co. 1, played errorless ball in wrapping up the playoff victory as Murray and Larry Butterfield chipped in two runs apiece to lead the attack. Bill Baldwin picked up the only hit for the losers with a clean single to center field in the third inning.

Engine Co. No. 3 whupped the Eagles, 7-1, last week to pull into a third-place tie in the final first half standings. Albert Tololo pitched a four-hitter and tallied two singles to lead the victors who won their second game in a row after losing their first two contests. Johnny Freeman had a triple and a single for No. 3.

Elegant — Yet Informal
Custom Built Homes In Princeton's
Western Section

Just Minutes From Town on Princeton Pike
Mercer Road

These homes are custom built in the true sense of the word with an eye to the finite details that go to make for a truly custom home, and of course, provisions were made for complete air-conditioning. All houses are on lots of over an acre completely and individually landscaped and have oversized two-car garages. These homes are priced at close to builder's cost and well below the market.

80-Foot Ranch - (Under Construction) - Situated on a lovely high lot. Enter a large, gracious reception foyer; then see the spacious living room with a fireplace and lovely bow picture window - a mahogany panelled den with large glass sliding doors to your garden - full sized dining room and a separate breakfast room, both with picture bow windows - an extremely modern kitchen with all built in appliances - laundry room - 3 oversized bedrooms - 2 1/2 baths - and a full basement. Priced below market, $43,500.

2-Story Colonial - 4 bedrooms - 2 baths and a guest powder room - delightful living room with glass sliding doors leading to an outdoor dining patio - and a dream kitchen completely equipped to make your mundane daily chores a pleasant daily interlude. Priced to sell quickly. $44,500.

94-Foot Ranch - (Under Construction) - Situated on a corner lot - 3 large bedrooms - 2 baths - with double vanity - bookcase - paneled - breakfast room - separate breakfast room - large living room with a fireplace - mahogany-paneled library - full dining room - separate breakfast room - fully equipped kitchen with all birch cabinets and a large laundry and utility room - also a full basement. This home priced at $47,500 is probably Princeton's biggest bargain.

Open House — Saturdays and Sundays 1:30 - 5:00 P.M., or can be seen by appointment. Just "phone New York City, Oxford 7-3646 (9 a.m. to 5 p.m.) or Princeton, Walnut 1-6592 (Eva.) or contact your own broker.

PRINCETON BOROUGH
For the family wanting town living, this house would seem to fit the bill. Located on a quiet cul-de-sac, this not too large, two-story cottage on a small lot has a living room with fireplace, separate dining room, den, three bedrooms, and 1½ baths. Very interesting.
